

UNIVERSITY OF
CAMBRIDGE

University of Cambridge
International Programmes
Institute of Continuing Education
Maddingley Hall, Maddingley
Cambridge CB23 8AQ
United Kingdom

Tel: +44 (0)1223 760850
Fax: +44 (0)1223 760848
Email: intenq@ice.cam.ac.uk
www.ice.cam.ac.uk/intsummer

31 January 2017

University of Cambridge English Law and Legal Methods Summer Programme 2017

Dear Colleague

I am delighted to enclose information regarding the 2017 University of Cambridge English Law and Legal Methods Summer Programme, which will take place in Cambridge, UK for three weeks from 9 July until 29 July 2017.

This long-established Programme introduces the central aspects of English law, and attracts participants from around the world. It is designed for lawyers and law students from countries whose legal systems are not based on English common law.

Teaching will be provided by leading academics from the University of Cambridge's Faculty of Law and visiting speakers. Participants will have the opportunity to stay at Selwyn College, and will have access to the world-renowned Squire Law Library. The Programme offers a rare opportunity to experience Cambridge life first-hand and spend this summer as a student in this famous university city.

I would be grateful if you would share the enclosed information with any of your colleagues or students who might be interested. Further details can be found at www.ice.cam.ac.uk/intsummer

The closing date for applications is 1 June 2017 and places are offered on a first-come, first-served basis, so we recommend early application.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us at intenq@ice.cam.ac.uk.

Yours faithfully

Sarah J Ormrod
Director of International Programmes

Study at one of the world's leading universities

The University of Cambridge is one of the oldest universities in the world, with over 800 years of history, and is renowned for its academic achievement. The University's International Summer Programmes welcome adults from more than 50 countries each year.

The English Law and Legal Methods Summer Programme has run for over 60 years, in collaboration with the Faculty of Law, and presents central aspects of English Law. Initially, the programme concentrates on the general structure of the law and legal methods, before embarking on the principal areas of English substantive law.

Taught by leading Cambridge scholars, this residential programme offers you the rare opportunity to experience Cambridge life first-hand; to live in one of the Colleges, enjoy a variety of social events, and to spend your summer as a student in one of the most famous university cities in the world.

Stay in a Cambridge College

To add to the academic experience you can stay and dine in Selwyn College, close to the Faculty of Law and within easy walking distance of the vibrant city centre. This gives you the opportunity to meet fellow students studying other subjects. If you prefer, non-residential places are also available.

Who can apply?

This programme is designed primarily for lawyers and law students, both graduate and undergraduate, who have little or no prior knowledge of the English legal system. Law students must have completed a minimum of one year of their legal studies at undergraduate level. Applications from others, however, can be considered. Participants must also meet our English language requirements.

How do I apply?

You can apply online, or request a prospectus with an application form.

Tuition fees

£2,250 (includes non-refundable registration fee of £200).

Accommodation options and fees

Selwyn College

- Ann's Court En suite £1,695
- Old Court Standard £1,455

Application deadline

Thursday 1 June 2017

Whilst every effort is made to avoid changes to this programme, published details may be altered at any time. The University reserves the right to amend any part of the programme without prior notice.

Find out more: www.ice.cam.ac.uk/intsummer

International Programmes

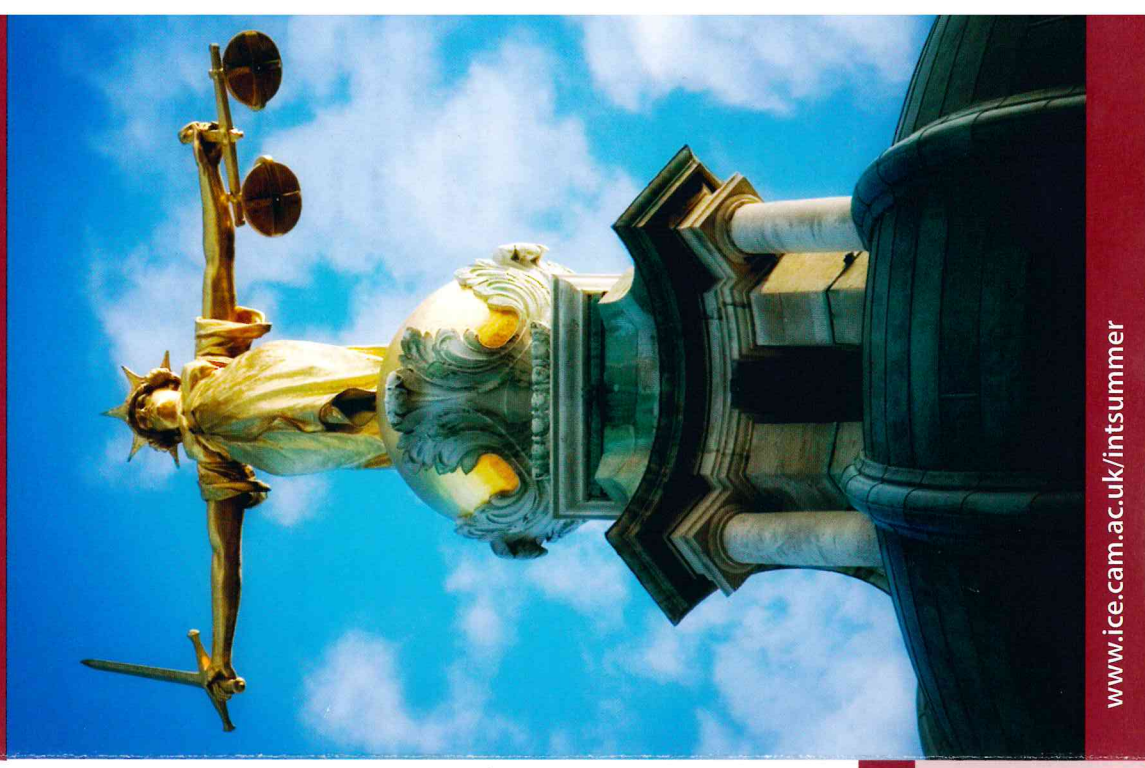

Telephone: +44 (0) 1223 760850

Email: intenq@ice.cam.ac.uk

Website: www.ice.cam.ac.uk/intsummer

Images: Front Cover: Lady Justice on top of the Old Bailey in London, England, courtesy of Shutterstock; p1: Selwyn College by kind permission of Selwyn College; p2, 3 & 4: Faculty of Law, University of Cambridge © Daniel Bates.

English Law and Legal Methods Summer Programme

9 – 29 July 2017

"Drawing on over 60 years of experience, the programme offers participants an unrivalled introduction to the English common law."
Dr Roderick Munday, Programme Director,
English Law and Legal Methods Summer Programme

EXECUTIVE AND PROFESSIONAL
EDUCATION

Endorsed provider

Academic programme

- Two small-group special subject seminars
- Three plenary lectures per day
- Evening talks
- c.65 hours of tuition over 3 weeks
- Reading and private study

Special subject seminars

You choose two seminar subjects. There is a total of 6 hours and 25 minutes' tuition in each seminar subject. You will receive a personal timetable for your seminars.

Specialist seminar topics offered are:

- Civil procedure
Professor Neil Andrews
- Company law
Dr Felix Steffek
- Contract law
Dr Roderick Munday
- Law of torts
Dr Janet O'Sullivan
- Private international law
Professor Richard Fentiman
- Constitutional and administrative law
Dr Paul Daly

Plenary lectures

Three plenary lectures, given by members of the Faculty of Law and other invited experts, are delivered every weekday, and aim to include the following topics:

- The development and structure of English law
- The sources of English law
- Precedent and statutory interpretation
- The courts and legal profession
- Private law (property, obligations, trusts, etc)
- Public law (constitutional and administrative law)
- Civil and criminal procedure

Reading and resources

A resource list will be available at the start of the programme; no pre-reading is required, but reading and private study forms an integral part of the programme. Students will also have access to the Squire Law Library, which maintains one of the largest legal collections in the UK. You will have access to computing and printing facilities, and to our Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) which gives access to seminar information and allows interaction with fellow participants before, during and after the programme.

Social events and evening talks

There will be a welcome reception and buffet on Sunday 9 July, and a closing reception and buffet on Friday 28 July. A number of other social events will take place during the programme, and you will also be able to attend evening talks, a ceilidh, and optional weekend excursions with participants on our other International Summer Programmes.

A typical week: Monday to Friday

08.00–08.45:	Breakfast in College (residents only)
09.15–12.45:	Three plenary lectures
14.00–17.30:	One or two 75-minute seminars / private study time / free time
18.30–19.30:	Dinner in College (residents only)
20.00–21.00:	Optional evening talks of general interest / concert or social event / free time

Attendance

A certificate of attendance will be given to those who attend all lectures and seminars. 100% attendance is required, except in exceptional circumstances.

